

GENIAL CRITIQUE OF GOVERNOR CARTER

The New York Sun has made a specialty of Governor Carter since his inauguration. Here is one of its editorials of recent date:

The Honolulu Commercial Advertiser of Feb. 10 brings good news. Governor George Robert Carter was to put the finishing touches on his message that night. "It has been a hard grind," he said; and he needed the short vacation to which he was about to treat himself.

The manufacture of "On the Crown" must have been almost as "hard a grind" to Demosthenes as it was to studious youth when Greek had to be studied. Masterpieces come hard; and Governor Carter's convolutions have to whirl and hum when he is in the agonies of composition.

It is no small triumph and honor, however, to have "put" old Demosthenes "out of business." In every school that fits boys for college, and especially in the nurseries of Yale, the speeches and messages of Governor Carter have driven out Demosthenes, Cicero, Chatham, Burke, Will Carleton and Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Many of our readers know and love those rich tropic flowers. We can almost smell the coming bunch, for which we need not bespeak warm welcome, particularly in football and rowing circles.

Meanwhile Carterians may console themselves with an interesting literary resemblance, upon which the Hawaiian Star dilates with a natural interest.

In his report to the Secretary of the Interior Governor Carter said:

"The Territory of Hawaii is among the most isolated of the political subdivisions of the United States, but by no means the smallest or least important, for has it not upset the claim of the famous Bay State to be the 'Hub' in that a circle drawn with the Island of Hawaii as a center shows the Philippines on the circumference to the west and the city of Boston just on the edge to the east, and there are those who ascribe certain opposition to expansion to this fact."

The Rev. Dr. Birnie, when speaking of the Hawaiian Islands at the Mohonk Conference, said:

"We should stand by them, and this outpost of the republic should be made sane, safe and sound. Did I say outpost? Do you realize that westward march of empire? We have called Boston the Hub, yet if you should describe a circle, then let the western circumference rest upon the Philippines and the eastern fall upon the State House at Boston, the center of the circle would rest upon Hawaii, the new Hub of the Greater Republic."

Here is no question of priority or plagiarism. Great ideas seem to occur about the same time to solitary scholars, working far apart from and unknown to each other, in their observatories or laboratories. Was it the Doctor, was it the Governor, was it somebody else who is entitled to a merely technical and unimportant precedence in the transference of the Hub from Beacon Hill to the Pacific? Neither Doctor nor Governor is exactly right in his recollection of Dr. Holmes's wheel. Not Massachusetts, not Boston, but "the Boston State House is the hub of the solar system."

SWELL IRON BEDS

The steamer Hawaiian brought us a big shipment of beds—all the way from the manufacturers in Chicago. Some are all brass, and some colored with heavy brass trimmings. These are high class beds, similar to the iron beds seen in the swell suites of the hotels. They are much superior to the iron beds usually sold here.

We have fine beds in the Vernis Martin finish. Cribs, with high sides, and all brass.

DINING ROOM RUGS.

By the Alameda we received a large shipment of grass rugs. They are of all sizes, all colors, and of many figured designs. We got them in such quantity and at a price that will permit them to be sold low. They are just the thing for the dining room or den, are artistic, and, although cheap as regards price, are not cheap in appearance.

WIRE MATTRESSES.

This climate rusts some kinds of wire mattresses. Then the rusty wires spoil the ticking of your nice mattresses. New wire springs are inexpensive and save you lots of trouble. We sell a number of different makes and as we put them together in our own workshops we can guarantee that they will not warp or break up easily.

LANAI FURNITURE.

Warm weather is approaching. Are your lanai rockers weather-worn and useless. We have a nice line of these.

MANAGER LAKE TO RETIRE FROM THE YOUNG HOTEL

RETIRING MANAGER LAKE OF THE ALEXANDER YOUNG HOTEL.

The announcement yesterday that Manager H. Wingate Lake of the Alexander Young Hotel was to sever his connection with that hostelry in April and leave for the coast on April 10 on the Ventura was received with regret, for it means the loss to Honolulu of a gentleman who has made friends for Hawaii the world over.

As manager, first of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel three years ago, and as manager of the Alexander Young Hotel from its opening in July, 1903, to the present time, Mr. Lake has entertained guests from almost every country on the globe. As an entertainer of army and navy people, Mr. Lake is probably more widely known among the Sons of Mars and Neptune than any other hotelkeeper from New York to Manila, for it was Mr. Lake who first began to entertain army transport people in Honolulu.

Mr. Lake has been a capable manager and has conducted his great hostelry in a most creditable manner and in the face of many difficulties. He will leave Honolulu with the regret of townsmen who have shared frequently in his hospitality.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lake have had much to do with social happenings in Honolulu, both enjoying a wide and ever widening circle of friends. Mr. Lake's original contract with the Young Hotel was not up until August, but Mr. Young having found a successor earlier than he anticipated Mr. Lake was given the opportunity of leaving before that time if he wished. He will probably engage in business on the coast, although it may not be in connection with hotels for the present.

A YOUNG HAWAIIAN DOCTOR SUCCEEDS IN ENGLAND

It is not generally known that one of the young Hawaiians who were sent abroad by Premier Gibson of Hawaii to be educated, remained there and became successful, but such is the fact. The name of the youth was Matthew Makalua and he is today a surgeon of large practice in England.

A personal letter to Prof. Alexander, from a friend in the south of England contains the following:

"There is a very interesting Hawaiian here, Manuia Makalua by name. He is a surgeon. Our doctor speaks highly of him. He was sent here in the old days, under the Gibson regime, to study and has married an Englishwoman whom I should imagine to be very well off. They have a pleasant home, beautifully furnished, and are a most devoted couple. Dr. Makalua was delighted to hear Hawaiian, of which he has forgotten a good deal. He bears an excellent character and is in every way a pleasing young fellow, good-looking and well-mannered. We have been very much pleased to meet him and Mrs. Makalua. I believe him to be the only Hawaiian who has practiced medicine successfully."

Dr. Makalua was educated at St. Chad's College, Denstone, England. Afterwards he took a complete medical course at King's College, London.

Adrian Splivalo, who has been connected with the Young Hotel since its opening, and is now in charge of the stores and purchasing department, will leave at the same time with Mr. Lake. He will go to San Francisco and take a responsible position with C. R. Splivalo & Co., of which his father, C. R. Splivalo of Belmont, is the head. Mr. Splivalo has been here for about two years and has been prominent in social and athletic circles. He was a member of the Punahou football eleven and is an expert golfer, and is a charter member of the Manoa Golf Club.

SPLIVALO TO LEAVE.

Mr. Crook, at present chief clerk of the hotel, will go to California with Mr. Lake.

GYPSY FORTUNE TELLERS ARE LANDED IN JAIL

A band of Roumanian Gypsies, black, hawk-eyed and hook-nosed, came to Honolulu in the steerage of the steamer Sierra, and yesterday, five women who would have been picturesque anywhere but in Honolulu, where the contrast was perhaps not sufficiently marked, started out on a tour of the town telling fortunes. Four or five muscular-looking men, and fifteen or twenty children, who accompanied the women here, kept camp in Kewalo meanwhile.

The fortune tellers did not go far before they were nabbed by the police for vagrancy, and being taken to the station, were released on their own recognizance to appear in court today and be given their choice of whether they would summer on the Reef or resume their travels. The chances are that they will travel. This is not a good country for malahini kahuna. The native product does not relish competition, and these hook-nosed Roumanian men and women do not inspire confidence by their appearance. Also, they are dirty. Somehow a dirty fortune-teller does not impress you as being on the good books of the Fickle Jade—and does not smell good, either.

WASHED OVERBOARD AND BACK AGAIN

The San Francisco Call of March 18 gives the following account of the battle which the barkentine S. G. Wilder had with the elements en route from Honolulu to San Francisco:

The barkentine S. G. Wilder, twelve and a half days from Honolulu, encountered southwest, westerly and northwest gales and there was hardly a time during the passage that the decks were not filled to the rails. Hans Nelson, a seaman, was swept overboard by one of the many waves which gamboled across the Wilder's deck. High as the yardarm it flung him and then carried him away more than a ship's length beyond the reach of his horror-stricken shipmates. They hardly realized that Nelson was overboard before another and bigger wave, coming in the opposite direction, took the sailor on its broad bosom and flopped him back on the vessel's deck, wet and winded, but wide-awake enough to grab a sheet-end and hang on until the waters receded. One wave which swept the deck fore and aft carried the whole crew along the deck for about fifty feet. The Wilder brought 15,700 bags of sugar.

The bark Amy Turner, fifteen days from Hilo with 23,516 bags of sugar, was also roughly treated by wind and wave. Five feet of her starboard bulwarks were carried away by one extra lusty wave.

SULLIVAN AGAIN.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 1.—John L. Sullivan, ex-champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, knocked out Jack McCormick of Galveston, Tex., in the second round of what was to have been a four-round boxing match, here tonight.

Sullivan was the aggressor all the way through. Sullivan weighed 273 and McCormick 196.

Another Berger March.

Kapellmeister Berger has played a thousand steuners away from the wharves at Honolulu, and is now engaged in the composition of a march in commemoration of the fact. The march will be published in the Advertiser one week from tomorrow.

The concert given last evening by the Hawaiian Government Band on the roof garden of the Alexander Young Hotel was largely attended.
